DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1-26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by U.S. Patent No. 6,587,691 to Granstam et al.

As concerns claims 1, 9 and 16, a system comprising: a computer (column 4, lines 13-25) operably connected to a network (column 1, lines 6-10), the computer having software configured to track the status of multiple modem units (column 4, line 9), the software allowing for the production of status checks (column 3, lines 3, 11-15, 42-45; column 7, lines 15-18, 35-42) to be sent to the multiple modem units; and modem units (column 6, line 20) for portable devices configured to receive external status check requests from the computer (column 3, lines 3, 11-15, 42-45; column 7, lines 15-18, 35-42; see also column 7, line 27; column 8, lines 39-41), each of the modem units being associated with a host processor (processor of portable device) of the respective portable device, the modem units configured to reply with modem status information in response to the external status check request without being controlled by the host processor (column 6, lines 31-36; processor of SIM card not the host processor).

As concerns claims 2, 10 and 19, wherein the computer is connected by the Internet to a server (column 5, lines 15-25).

Art Unit: 2151

As concerns claims 3 and 11, wherein the server is connected to a cellular network (column 3, line 66).

As concerns claim 4, wherein the computer system sends requests across the network through the server, across the cellular network to the individual modem units (figure 1).

As concerns claim 5, wherein the modem units receive the requests and transmit status information back across the cellular network to the computer (column 3, lines 3, 11-15, 42-45; column 7, lines 15-18, 35-42; see also column 7, line 27; column 8, lines 39-41; figure 5).

As concerns claims 6, 12, 13 and 17, wherein the modem units transmit across a cellular network (column 3, line 66).

As concerns claims 7, 14 and 20, wherein the modem units run the UDP protocol (column 5, line 53) over IP.

As concerns claim 8, 15 and 21, wherein the modem units do not have a TCP stack at the modem unit (column 5, line 53-UDP).

As concerns claim 16, a method comprising: transmitting modem status requests to modem units across cellular network (column 3, line 66); at the modem unit, determining whether status request is for that modem unit (column 4, line 9-ID) and, if so, constructing a modem status response and transmitting a wireless response from modem unit (column 3, lines 3, 11-15, 42-45; column 7, lines 15-18, 35-42; see also column 7, line 27; column 8, lines 39-41; figure 5); receiving modem status responses from a number of modem units and producing a display for a group of modem units (column 3, lines 3, 11-15, 42-45; column 7, lines 15-18, 35-42; see also column 7, line 27; column 8, lines 39-41; figure 5).

As concerns claim 18, wherein the modem status requests are sent from a computer to the modem units (column 4, lines 13-25).

Art Unit: 2151

As concerns claims 22-24, the modem status information comprises at least one of: modem unit identification information (column 6, lines 31-35) or signal strength (column 7, line 27).

As concerns claim 25, each of said modem units is further configured to reply to the host processor with modem status information, in response to a local status check request from the host processor (column 6, lines 37-38).

As concerns claim 26, memory (memory on SIM card).

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments filed July 23, 2007 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

4. In response to applicant's argument that the references fail to show certain features of applicant's invention, it is noted that the features upon which applicant relies (i.e., a status check request is sent from a computer to a modem component of a mobile station; modem responds without control of a processor- claims recite a host processor) are not recited in the rejected claim(s). Although the claims are interpreted in light of the specification, limitations from the specification are not read into the claims. See In re Van Geuns, 988 F.2d 1181, 26 USPQ2d 1057 (Fed. Cir. 1993).

Conclusion

5. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

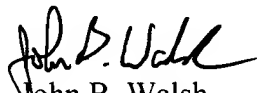

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
